Roadmap for LIBOR Transition

LIBOR (London Interbank offered rate) is the most widely used benchmark for short term interest rates. LIBOR is currently available for 5 (Five) Currencies. (Pound Sterling, Euro, US Dollar, Yen and Swiss Franc) and for 7 tenors in respect of each currency (overnight for spot next, 1 week, 2 week, 1 month, 2 months, 3 months, 6 months and 12 months). LIBOR has played a critical role in global markets. It has been widely used for reference rate for financial contracts and as a benchmark to gauge funding costs and investment returns for a broad range of financial products.

The Reserve Bank of India had, in August 2020, requested banks to frame a Board-approved plan, outlining an assessment of exposures linked to the London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR) and the steps to be taken to address risks arising from the cessation of LIBOR, including preparation for the adoption of the Alternative Reference Rates (ARR). The Financial Conduct Authority (FCA), UK has announced on March 05, 2021 that LIBOR will either cease to be provided by any administrator or no longer be a representative rate:

- (a) Immediately after December 31, 2021, in the case of all Pound sterling, Euro, Swiss franc and Japanese yen settings, and the 1-week and 2-month US dollar settings; and
- (b) Immediately after June 30, 2023, in the case of the remaining US dollar settings.

United States	US Dollar LIBOR	SOFR (Secured Overnight Financing Rate)
Japan	JPY LIBOR, TIBOR, and Euroyen TIBOR	TONAR (Tokyo Overnight Average Rate)
